

NW 20. RESEARCH IN INNOVATIVE INTERCULTURAL LEARNING ENVIRONMENTS

MINUTES

University of Glasgow,
(August, 22-25, 2023)

Carmen Carmona-Rodríguez
University of Valencia (Spain)

1. Brief presentation: we introduce ourselves to the rest of the members.
2. Feedback from ECER NW20 presentations. There was a positive feedback in terms of the quality of the presentations. The special call we had with NW7 and NW31 was a success. There were really relevant contributions and discussion.
3. Proposal for Book series. This call is only for participants who submitted abstracts to the Special Call 2023-Glasgow. Based on the special call NW 07/20/31: Multiliteracies in Intercultural & Multilingual Education: Bridging Identities, Practices & Learning Environments. The respective three link convenors agree to launch a proposal for the Book series Springer. The details are the following: Deadline: November, 3, 2023, Max 500 words, Title, Times New Roman 12, space line 1,5, and justified. Selection: end of January
4. 4. Project Development: “Innovative and Intercultural Learning Environments in Initial Teacher Education”. We discussed about the possibility of writing the proposal.
5. Special NW call for ECER 2024 (October 30) or Symposium on memory, hope and reconciliation.
6. 7. Honorary Network Membership values the contributions of a convenor in the context of a network's history. Being an honorary network member has no duties, but includes the possibility of paying the reduced ECER fee available to members of EERA member associations. Therefore, we propose that Prof. Raimonda Bruneviciute from University of Medicine in Kaunas, Lithuania was propose to EERA council as honorary network member for all her time, dedication to this network as co-convenor an very active researcher.