

Guidelines for programme planning ECER 2018 Please complete your programme by 25 May!

Dear Link-Convenors,

Thank you for all the hard work you have done so far for organizing this year's European Conference on Educational Research (ECER). It is greatly appreciated. Before you start with the online planning we would like to provide you with some additional information.

Important Dates at ECER 2018

Convenors' Meetings

There will be two link convenors' meetings during ECER: Tuesday, September 4, 10.30–12.00 and Friday, September 7, 12.15–13.15. Please mark these dates in your calendar..

Council invited Reception

There will be a special reception for all convenors, reviewers and EERA council members on Wednesday, 5 September, 19:00 – 20:30. The reception will be held at the south Tyrol Museum of Archaeology, home to the famous Ötzi the glacier mummy. Because places are limited, we will send you a link to pre-register in due time.

New@ECER 2018 - Conference Sessions

The ECER 2018 timetable will show 17 conference sessions (the time slots Wed, Thurs, Fri 11.00 – 12.00 for central events now have the session numbers 05, 10 and 15 - these cannot be used by networks). As in previous years, there are 14 sessions which can be used by networks for their programme planning. All sessions have fixed start and end times – these can be seen on page 8 below. The European Conference on Educational Research starts September 4 at noon and overlaps slightly with the Emerging Researchers' Conference

Many thanks for your continued support.

Best wishes,

Jani Ursin and the EERA Office

Guidelines for Online Programme Planning

General guidelines

- The sessions are named in the usual way: “02 SES 01 A” is Network 02, timeslot 01, with “A” indicating that there are parallel sessions for NW 01 within this timeslot. Please use all sessions 1 - 17 A before using a session “B”, “C” or “D”. This is important so as to avoid shortage of rooms in peak session times.
- There are two types of accepted proposals: status “Accepted” and status “Accept” (as a result of the first and second round of reviewing, respectively). In Conftool, it is best to set the respective filter (Acceptance Status) to “All contributions which will be presented”. (Screenshot on page 6) The office can prepare an excel export of these submissions for you, if you find this helpful during programme planning.
- We will send you a list with time restraints within your network early in May (After 2nd round of reviewing). As these restraints came early, please try to accommodate them.
- In order to prevent repeated mistakes of combining papers with Symposia, Roundtables and Workshops in one session: Please start by assigning Symposia, Roundtables and Workshops and work through the papers afterwards. It is easy to do this by setting the Filter “Formats” to the respective format of presentation and then work through the list. (Screenshot on page 6)
- Let Office know as early as possible if you are planning joint sessions with another network and request that both networks are placed in rooms close to each other for all slots.
- All networks must hold a network meeting during ECER. If you plan it during session time, do not plan any other session in the same time slot. This will be particularly difficult for all networks which run parallel slots throughout the conference.
For networks who held their NW meeting outside session times in ECER 2017 (during lunch time on Thursday), this session was copied from last year. You might want to use it again this year (Thursday 12.00-13.00 or, if you would like the NW meeting to be extended by 30 minutes, Thursday 12:00 – 13:30, please let us know if you would like the longer session) If you want your network meeting to take place during a different session, please get in touch with Office. Please note that the network meeting must not take place in the lunch break on Wednesday during the General Poster exhibition, during the keynote speeches or on Friday lunchtime, when the link convenors meet.
- As soon as the first programme drafts come in, we will start to check for time conflicts. We also continue to collect time restraints and cancellations and will keep you updated. We try to keep the number of programme changes as low as possible and only get in touch if we think action needs to be taken (e.g.: time conflict, cancellation leaves only 1 paper in a session) Once the presentation times have been announced, we will only contact you with rescheduling requests if they seem unavoidable.
- The most important information is: once you have completed your programme do not alter it online anymore! You might get requests from authors to cancel their presentations. Please forward these emails to Office (preferably with a suggestion on necessary adaptations to the programme). We will withdraw the papers and arrange for these participants' cancellations as well as their refunds. If you do not forward these emails the authors might end up as being listed amongst the no-shows.

- Some authors might ask you to re-schedule their presentation. If authors ask Office, we will only accommodate these requests if they seem unavoidable and necessary. We recommend you do the same. If you want to accommodate the request: do not do this via Conftool, but ask Office to reschedule the paper (put forward a suggestion!). If the programme database is changed while Office is sorting out time conflicts, new conflicts might be created but remain unnoticed. This holds true for both presentation times and chairing sessions.

Getting started: Session Overview

First take a look at how many sessions were prepared for you.

To do so, scroll to the section "As chair of the programme committee..." => and click Sessions

As chair of the program committee, you have access to all contributions and reviews:

Assigned to the following network(s):

- 08. Research on Health Education

Manage Submissions and Reviews
Access to submitted contributions, all program committee (PC) members and their reviews.

Quick Links: Submissions, Program Committee, Review Results, Finals, Sessions

Bulk E-mails

You will then get an overview of all conference sessions in Conftool. In addition, you will be informed which network has been assigned to you (in the example below: Network 01). Please select your respective network by using the dropdown menu "Filter by track/submission type".

Assigned to the following network(s): 01. Continuing Professional Development: Learning for Individuals, Leaders, and Organisations

Filter by track / submission type All tracks / types of submissions that were assigned to you as Track Chair

You will now be able to see and access all sessions that were set up for your network by the EERA Office. In the example you see an example for NW 01: they have 3 parallel sessions (A - C) in time slots 01, 02 and 03 on Tuesday.

Changing Session Titles

To edit the title of the session, click "Edit Sessions" in the upper left corner. Afterwards, click "Edit Session Details" (see screenshot below):

Session Overview

You will now be able to add a session title ("Title"). Please do so! Remember this will be displayed in the conference app. You are free to choose titles for Paper Sessions. Sessions for Symposia, Round Tables and Workshops need to get the title of the respective submission. EERA office can fill those in.

Selecting Chairs

You are also free to select a chair, but Office suggests that you do not do that at this stage! ("Session Chair") or discussant ("Second Session Chair"). We will ask for names later and via a different way. Why? Chairs and discussants have to be registered as users in the system; otherwise their names won't be displayed. Experience has shown that many chair persons are not registered at the time of programme planning. So you won't be able to assign their names. In order to simplify the process, Office will send out an excel export of your programme and ask you to fill in the names of chairpersons there. This will allow office to regularly check if a suggested chair is already available in the system. When assigning chairs, think of people who will be able to assure good discussions after the presentations and who are knowledgeable of ECER and the network. Avoid assigning authors presenting in that session.

Do not change the information in "Further Information" . The session abstract will (only) be displayed in the conference App.

Assigning Submissions to Sessions

To assign the submissions to each session, please click "Review Results" in the box displayed in more detail under "Getting started" (see p. 3). A partial screenshot of this box is displayed below:

You will then be directed to a list similar to the one below:

In order to ensure that you do not miss an accepted paper, set the Acceptance Status to: "All contributions that will be presented" (see upper red circle in the screenshot below). Now all contributions that were accepted in either the first or the second round of reviewing are displayed. It is easy to see whether the accepted proposals of both reviewing rounds are displayed since they are marked in different shades of green.

To facilitate your work, take a look at the additional option in "Show more filter options". We recommend that you set the filter "Format of Presentations" to Symposium and complete all the submissions here, then to Round Table and complete all the submissions, then to Research Workshop and work your way through the different formats.

You can assign presentations in sessions by using the drop down menu "Session". You will now get an overview of all available sessions attributed to your network (see screenshot below). Before assigning a presentation to a session, please also take a look at the list of time restraints/withdrawals you will receive by the EERA Office (to be sent second week of May).

Symposia

- Please always use Friday Session 14, 16 and 17 for Symposia first! These are the official Symposia Sessions. If your network has attracted more symposia, you can also use earlier slots, but try to plan symposia towards the end of the conference.
- Symposia needing more than one session (i.e. were submitted in two or more parts) should be planned in subsequent sessions.
- The EERA office will need to modify symposia in order to be able to assign the papers within a symposium to session slots. We will do this, once you have scheduled the symposium. Only assign one symposium to a session slot. If you detect a "symposium paper" (=paper within a symposium) in your network, please disregard it. We will process it.
- Sessions for Symposia should always have the name of the submission. If you do not type in the title, the EERA office will take care of this when attributing the chair and discussant as suggested by the submitter.

Roundtables / Workshops

- Do not place them into a session together with a paper
- Sessions for Roundtables and Workshops should always have the name of the submission. If you do not type in the title, the EERA office will take care of this when attributing the chair for the Roundtable as suggested by the submitter. In workshops (usually) the submitter is asked to chair.

Posters

- Posters would be default be put to the general poster session on Wednesday during lunch time (NW SES 05.5 PS). But you are free to alter this.
- Since a while, a test run for interactive poster sessions was conducted. You might therefore want to offer an interactive poster session in your network again this year. The idea is to have an interactive and chaired poster session in one of your session rooms during one of the 14 network session slots. The posters would be displayed in this room throughout the conference. If you would like to have an interactive poster session, please assign (some of) the posters into one of the 14 time slots for Parallel Sessions. It might be best to keep 4-5 posters in one sessions, although we also had good experiences with mixing posters and papers.
- We are not yet sure if all rooms will allow for hanging up posters, but we will try to ensure that each network opting for an interactive poster session will be able to offer one. Some flexibility on all sides might be asked for.

Videos

- Videos were introduced as presentation format in 2018. Video presentations can best be scheduled together with paper /poster presentations, or if you have more videos also in one video session. This is new – so we all are experimenting. What is fixed: Videos will be displayed in the session rooms.

Pecha Kucha

- Some networks introduced Pecha Kuchas as presentation format. Preferably, each session will have 3-5 Pecha Kucha presentations with a chair person prepared to engage participants in discussion. If not enough Pecha Kuchas are submitted, the presentations will be programmed together with paper presentations in that same network.

Papers

- As rule of thumb, please put three papers into each session. A number in brackets behind the session short title (e.g. 01 SES 01 A [2]) will indicate how many papers are already placed in one session (here: two).
- If your network uses subthemes you can filter all submissions and therefore easily detect papers that might fit together well in one session. In the list “Review results”, please click “Show Filter Options” and then select “Filter by Topic”.
